February 2017 Joint Half-Day Meeting “Ethical Fitness- A Method for Resolving Complex Dilemmas”

Please plan on joining us on Thursday, February 16th for a joint Philadelphia Chapter ASSE - Philadelphia Section AIHA half-day meeting, being held at EMSL Analytical, Inc. in Cinnaminson, NJ (click here for directions).

Our speaker for this meeting will be Nancy Orr, CIH, CSP, FAIHA, who will speak on “Ethical Fitness- A Method for Resolving Complex Dilemmas”.

This meeting on Ethical Fitness helps participants develop an increased awareness of ethical issues and how they arise. Participants will learn to:

- Understand the nature of personal values and their role in guiding conduct
- Apply tools and skills to analyze ethical dilemmas
- Learn to identify and resolve potential 'conflict of interest' situations
- Make higher quality ethical decisions

Participants in this course will acquire essential skills necessary to make higher quality ethical decisions. This skill – building process begins by developing an awareness of ethical issues and how they arise. The role of personal values and their application to decision – making is then examined. Participants practice using analytical techniques to explore right vs. wrong situations as distinct from right vs. right dilemmas, where values conflict. We will explore how to resolve situations where truth conflicts with loyalty; justice with mercy; short-term goals with long-term goals, and self-interest conflicts with the community's interest. Finally, participants apply several resolution approaches to dilemmas in search of “the higher right.”

We hope that you will be able to join us.
